DARK HORSE LOOMS IN DEADLOCK

First Big Break In Democratic Battle Goes To Gov. Cox

SUICIDE END BY WOMAN IS STOPPED

S.F. Platform Inconsistency Will Silence Criticism of Planks Framed by G.O.P.

By Joseph R. Knowland, Publisher of The TRIBUNE

The galleries, waiting expectantly since the opening day for convention thrills, certainly got them yesterday. From the time the chairman's gavel fell in the morning, and Senator Glass began the reading of the platform that covered every conceivable subject from the League of Nations to sex hygiene, until the result of the second ballot for president was announced in the evening and the convention adjourned, there was not a dull moment. Not a single speech well-aimed administration machine slipped, there was much noise, but the expert engineers in charge never lost control, although a less sophisticated onlooker might have been threatened at times as if danger was threatened. Having functioned steadily in putting over the platform, the sun never will today name the candidate. I never saw a Republican or Democratic convention so well in hand.

Faith Kept With Those Who Died in Flanders' Fields, Wilson Wires, After Giving His Assurance at Outcome

"It is a Source of Pride to Receive Such Evidence of Confidence of Great Party," Executive Message Asserts

UNITED PRESS RELEASE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, July 2.—President Wilson today wired the San Francisco convention that the course the Democratic party has taken "fills us with perfect confidence that it will go from victory to victory." His message was sent to Homer S. Cummings, national Democratic chairman, in answer to resolutions of sympathy passed at the first day of the Democratic convention. It follows:

It is with the most grateful appreciation that we received the messages from your convention, so kindly transmitted by you, as a source of profound pride with me to receive such an evidence of the confidence of the great party which derives its principles direct and untainted from the founders of our nation and the authors of our liberty.

While our opponents are endeavoring to mislead us abroad in the world, we are following the vision of the founders of the Republic who promised the world the counsel and leadership of the free people of the United States in all matters that affected human liberty and the justice of law. That promise we deliberately renewed when we accepted the great war for human freedom and we must keep faith with those who died in Flanders' Fields to redeem it.

On Ireland, the convention stood with the chairman and against the advocates of recognition of the "republic" although there was an active and rather strong minority that mustered over four hundred votes and threw a scare into the administration forces. It was the closest call of the day.

"If we have omitted anything we mean that, too," declared Chairman Glass in closing the debate, and it was a real debate, too, one that will go down in history and which will be a rare privilege to have heard. Both Bryan and Bourne Cockran have been yielding during the early stages of senate consideration of the treaty as were the platform makers the question might not have become a political issue, a situation which every right-thinking American citizen deplores. It was held in the front rank of a century of great orators. Glass handled himself admirably, although he displayed an animus toward Bryan which was rare. He was a real Bourbon gathering. Republicans in attendance looked more cheerful yesterday than upon any other day of the convention, for up to that moment the proceedings had been far too harmonious.

This is a conquering purpose and nothing can defeat it.

Maps Studied In Search For Vice President

By DAVID M. CHURCH, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Rеспublians were condemned for failing to declare for a bonus for soldiers and sailors. Yesterday a proposal that merely asked for a committee to study the question with the idea of future aid. Without entering into the merits of this question the action was at least glaringly inconsistent.

The high cost of living was charged against Republicans because peace was not declared and congress had failed to enact laws against profiteers! There are ample laws upon our statute books if the party general, now a candidate for president, had enforced them.

A large system was proposed, although a bill providing such a system, passed by the Republican congress during the past year, was vetoed by President Wilson.

The labor plank like the one adopted at Chicago, recognizes the right of collective bargaining, and both express disapproval of strikes against the government. The rest of this plank is made up of platitudes and means nothing.

MARYLAND AND CAROLINA SUFFRAGE DEFEATS IRKS

The plan calling for woman suffrage brought forth no genuine demonstration, during which the standards of the various states were carried in front of the speakers' rostrum while the band played stirring airs to augment the enthusiasm. There was considerable irritation over the fact that the delegates from Maryland and South Carolina refused to permit the standards of their respective states to be carried in the procession, although a futile attempt was made to take them from the delegates by force. The Democratic platform called upon Democratic legislators to ratify the federal amendment to act promptly while the Republican suffrage plank contained a like appeal addressed to Republican legislators.

The postal service was commanded, although either through design or accident, the name of Postmaster Burleson was not mentioned.

The Mexican policy of the administration, whatever that may be, is

Premiers Allot France Half of War Indemnity

England Gets 22 Per Cent; Italy 10, Belgium 8 and Serbia 5.

BRUSSELS, July 3 (By the Associated Press)—An international conference has finally reached by the allied premiers in conference held in Paris to the division of German reparations on the basis of 52 per cent to France, 22 per cent to Great Britain, 10 per cent to Italy, 8 per cent to Belgium, and 5 per cent to Serbia. The remaining 3 per cent will be divided among the other allies, including Rumania, Portugal and Japan. Italy will also receive certain economic and financial advantages.

The vice-presidential candidates are being segregated according to their native healths. Among the western candidates Secretary of Agriculture Meredith of Iowa and Governor Stewart of Montana stand out as the favorites, with the long odds on Meredith. The secretary of agriculture is well known in business circles and also is reputed to have a strong farm following.

Governor Stewart of Montana is looked on as a strong candidate, but he is not well known in the East. Friends of Senator David J. Walsh of Massachusetts are contending that he is the leading eastern candidate. He has many supporters in his home state and might be able to offset Governor Coolidge.

The name of Governor Cox of Ohio also is being mentioned as an eastern possibility for vice-president. Governor Smith of New York has been put aside as a possibility since New York Democrats gave the word that they wanted him as a gubernatorial candidate. He does not get the presidential nomination.

Brigadier General Tom of Tennessee is the offering of the South.

Tyson is the only candidate for whom a vigorous campaign has been waged. His choice would be an opportunity to win soldiers' support.

Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, the incumbent, who has declared he does not want the nomination, has never yet failed to serve when his party called. He has, however, had two terms.

NOTED WILDWEST RIDERS OPEN THREE-DAY LIVERMORE RODEO

THOUSANDS SEE COWBOYS VIE IN ROUNDUP ARENA

LIVERMORE, July 3.—Livermore's great annual rodeo got under way today.

It was just about 1 o'clock this afternoon when the cowboy parade left First street for the rodeo grounds.

The streets were crowded with thousands of people who came from the entire bay section to see the great congress of western riders compete in what has come to be known as the greatest affair of its kind in California.

For in the few years that the rodeo has been held at Livermore its popularity has grown and along with this, its fame until now the most noted riders in the west come here to meet challengers or to wrest new laurels.

Livermore, the heart of a cattle country, is pre-eminently the fitting place for the state's most noted arena event for cattlemen. It was Livermore cattlemen who assembled in the first rodeo to test their strength, but now Livermore cattlemen are joined by riders from everywhere.

TOWN DECORATED.

The town was gaily decorated today for the inauguration of the three-day contest. Hundreds of automobiles came up with their cars and parked them over night. A free site has been offered on the Cresta Blanca Wine Company's grounds. This is a charming spot among the trees, with plenty of water and visitors are permitted to stay not only during the rodeo, but longer if they like. The camp has been pitched and space is allotted to campers on application.

When the parade had reached the rodeo grounds, which have been put in specially good shape this year, with many new conveniences, the riders began to prepare themselves for the events. Meanwhile the crowd was admitted to the grandstand and bleachers.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the grand entry into the arena began. Men and women riders speeded around the track and onto the field in bucking bronchos. Then came the arena and track events while the bleachers cheered the contestants in most approved western style.

There was band with plenty of good circus music to put "jazz" into things.

The management has arranged things so that there is an arena and a track event continually, at the same time.

The events are to be repeated tomorrow and Monday and the prizes are to be awarded on the strength of the showings for the three days.

DANCES DUE TONIGHT.

Tonight there are to be cowboy dances at the Sweeney Opera House and on J street, between First and Second, to be followed by a carnival.

Preliminary to the opening of the rodeo was staged last night when there were boxing at the Sweeney Opera House under the direction of the Livermore Athletic Club and dancing at Foresters' Hall.

Lucky McFaul is in Livermore with the announced intention of maintaining his title of champion relay rider of California against all comers.

McFaul won his title from Harry McElrath at the Los Angeles Rodeo in May. The McFaul string is in charge of "Sleepy" Armstrong. McElrath's string was shipped from Shellyville.

GIRLS TO COMPETE.

There are to be many girl contestants and many different events have been arranged for their participation. Chances for the women riders will be Ethel Carr, of Portland, Ore., and Marguerite McFadden of Cheyenne. These two riders have made Pendleton and Cheyenne rodeos famous and they have been entered in all the Livermore events, including relay and stake races and other performances catalogued in the list of women riders' events.

There will be seven girl relay teams, as compared with four last year and two the previous year.

W. G. McElroy, the champion trick rider from Cheyenne, will be here, the contract having been signed yesterday.

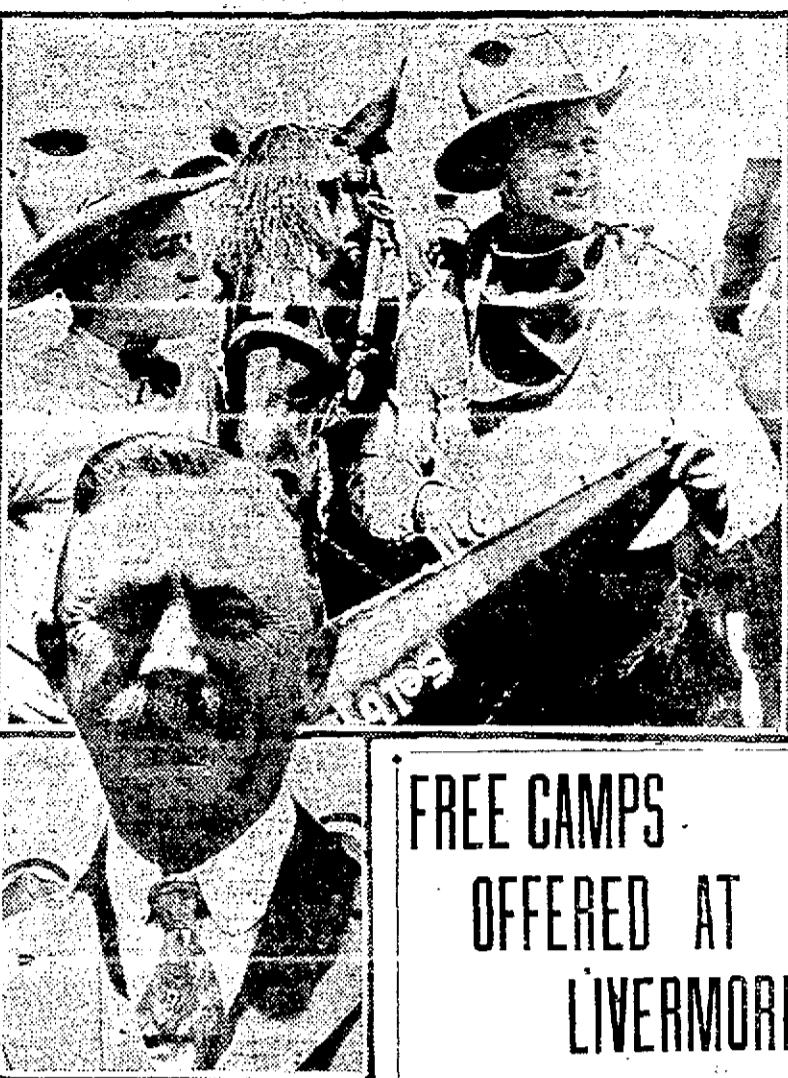

Violet Frazier and Marjorie Soares, two of the many girl riders, will try riding two tough bulls double.

A tough five-year-old mule has been secured from the Mt. Oso district, near Newman, and there will be a $20 prize for the first rider who saddles and rides it. Abe Letkowitsch and Ty Stokes will be among those who will try.

ROPING PRIZES BIG.

For roping there is $500 in prizes in one event alone, and among those who will compete are Sam and Arch Parks of San Jose, and Mark Parks of El Paso, all brothers; Ed Nord-

JOE AURRECOCHA, manager of Livermore Rodeo, and "FOCHORN" MURPHY, below is D. J. MURPHY, president of Stockmen's Rodeo Association.

GAS SUPPLY IN AMPLE QUANTITY
ASSURED TO ALL

LIVERMORE, July 3.—Plenty of gasoline—that is one of the big inducements that Livermore people hold out to all automobile drivers attending the three-day rodeo celebration. Arrangements have been made with all gasoline companies for a special supply during the events that will insure to everyone that he need not be held up for lack of it. This and a charming camping site, free on the Cresta Blanca grounds, are leaving big attractions to motorists.

TONIGHT, July 3.—The camping privileges that are offered are located on the Arroyo Valle at the famous Cresta Blanca winery, at the spot where hundreds of great bachelors and picnickers have been held. The creek at this location runs through a heavily wooded area with many camping accommodations for hundreds of parties.

The Cresta Blanca management has always kept the public away from this spot, but they have turned the property over to the town of Livermore, and the town offers free camping sites to all who come to come and stay during the Rodeo or even longer. There is running water and electric power, and each camper has a camping outfit connected with their automobile it will furnish an ideal vacation for a few days.

There are many automobile owners who have camping outfits, and this offers an opportunity that is not often given. The location is delightful. The famous Cresta Blanca vineyard is the scene, the valley is nearby and overlooking the site on a high hill is the great Arroyo San Joaquin of Alameda county.

Camping sites will be allotted and permits issued upon application to M. G. Callaghan, secretary of the Rodeo Association. There are no charges whatever, and if you want to go and camp before the Rodeo starts and want to stay long after it is over, you are welcome, the Rodeo officials state.

FAMOUS BUCKING TEAM.

Benny and Johnny Dobbins, famous bucking horse riders, have entered in the bucking horse contest and also participate in the relay and Rodeo races.

Mickie McNrick, who lost his laurels to Sleepy Armstrong at Los Angeles last May, will try to regain them at Livermore. Sleepy is already on hand with his string of relay horses. Ten head of them came direct from Juana. Contests of these kinds are overlooked at last year's Rodeo for the reason that they are not seen in the rodeo circuit with the long cow-horses, but this year's management has arranged to keep each in a separate class by themselves. Three free-for-all events each day have been included in the program where blooded horses only may enter. This will be a decided attraction at this year's Rodeo.

A feature of the riding will be the appearance of some of the noted girl riders of this season, and the cowboy boys are vying with each other in backing their favorites for these events.

FREE CAMPS OFFERED AT LIVERMORE

Livermore claims that its Fourth of July Rodeo on Saturday, Sunday and Monday next will be the greatest gasoline economy event ever given in California. The town has taken steps to provide necessary accommodations for a full three days' outing that can be made by auto tourists from the bay cities. Livermore is only thirty-five miles from Oakland and five miles more from San Francisco, and the town is prepared to furnish free camping privileges besides running water and in one of the beauty spots of Alameda county for all who will attend the three days of the Rodeo. The Livermore people assert that there is nothing going on in California that offers so many attractions as their Rodeo.

RODEO GIVEN IN 1918 FIRST TIME; FINDS BIG FAVOR

The Livermore Rodeo is maintaining its reputation for great crowds, splendid entertainment and freedom from quacks and crooks. In three years this Rodeo has supplanted all entertainments of the kind in California, and it bids fair to hold this high standard of excellence as long as it is continued under the present management. The Livermore Rodeo is not a profit-making institution. The people of the Livermore valley have gone into their pockets to provide the money for the celebration, and the profits are being devoted to public purposes. The management is all in the hands of the local people, and no professional promoters have been allowed to have anything to do with any feature of the event.

The Rodeo was established for two objects—one to provide a public entertainment park for the Livermore valley and the visitors thereto, and the other to advertise the Livermore valley.

The first Rodeo was given in 1918, during war times. Livermore had sent many of her sons to the war, and the local Red Cross was most active at the time. It was proposed that an entertainment be held for the benefit of the Red Cross, and the first Rodeo was given in that year. The Rodeo proceeds were devoted that year to the Red Cross.

That event, however, there was a demand for a Rodeo that would be conducted upon principles of absolute fairness to riders and public.

Both had learned that there were as many tricks in a Rodeo as in a circus and there was a demand for the real thing. So the Livermore Stockmen's Rodeo Association was formed, and incorporated under the laws of the state as a non-profit making club. The people of Livermore subscribed to the stock out of their pockets, and that formed the basis of the Rodeo of a year ago. That Rodeo opened its gates practically $20,000 to the bad. That is, $20,000 had been invested in grounds, buildings, corrals, a track, grand stand and bleachers and prizes. This year's Rodeo opened with a little more than that amount paid off, and it is hoped that this season will clear the debt.

The money that is made by this Rodeo is being invested in a public park for all of the people of the Livermore valley and their visiting friends. The grounds upon which the Rodeo is given have been cleared and as soon as they are cleared from debt they will be dedicated to the public as a park. The park will contain an athletic field, a half-mile track, corrals and stands and will be open to the public in the summer.

This winter an extensive tree planting will be held and then Livermore will follow the advice of the automobile department of the TRIBUNE and will establish a free automobile camping park, with complete water and sewer facilities. Livermore has always supported this plan as advocated by the TRIBUNE automobile section, and will, this coming winter, carry out this plan.

If the hopes of the people of Livermore are fulfilled there will be no debt over the park after this Rodeo and they can proceed with the improvement and development thereof.

But the Livermore Rodeo is to be an annual event and will continue under the management of the people of the town. No promoters need apply. The people of Livermore have given their guarantees as to the character of their Rodeo and they are willing to back those guarantees.

DISTANCE SHORT.

Livermore is only thirty-five miles from Oakland and a trifle more from San Francisco, and yet it is the center of the great oil industry that few know except the oil fields of the state highway, with the automobile roads upon its streets than broncos not many know of the great cattle and sheep industry that exists in the hills of the Mount Hamilton range for fifty miles to the south and in the hills of the Mount Diablo range to the north. Yet hundreds of real cowboys handle great herds of fine cattle in mountain fastnesses that few know to exist.

The cattle ranchers men of this section have long been welded into a strong organization of men and known as the Livermore Stockmen's Association. For years they have kept their stock in these hills, have patrolled the hills for fires, have built miles upon miles of telephone lines and roads and trails for the better protection of the cattle and the ranges. These men have been the backbone of the business of Livermore.

The Rodeo Association was an offshoot of the Livermore Stock

Rev. H. A. Van Winkle will occupy the pulpit of the First Christian Church tomorrow at the special Independence Day services. Following the observance of the Lord's Supper at the morning service the next subject will be "Our Country's Greatest Need." The evening services will feature special music of a patriotic nature, and there will be "Religious Fireworks." There will be the usual young people's services in the early evening. It was announced yesterday that a Statewide Prayer Meeting will be held at the Crockett Homes, 2014 Brook street, Thursday night at 7:30. It is urged that all who want to win that banner attend.

Something unusual and ordinary is taking place in the Sunday school. As a unit they are working to "Save the Summer Slump," and have decided to call the school "The Summer Slump School." All the money raised will be given to the home of Crockett Homes, 2014 Brook street, Thursday night at 7:30. It is urged that all who want to win that banner attend.

Williams has supplied the pulpits of St. Stephen's and St. Andrew's, often in the past year and will preach at the latter tomorrow at the morning service. He will conduct the evening service at St. Stephen's. Pastor T. A. Stry will be at St. Stephen's in the morning speaking on the theme "Modern Philanthropists," and in the evening at St. Stephen's Church.

Six cents a day is the wage of the living scare crows in India. It is revealed that the cost of the scarecrows made for the Interchurch World Movement. Men spend their days in the fields frightening away birds which endanger the rice crop, while the cost of the scarecrows depends. This waste of man power is due to the caste system.

WEAVER'S ONE BAD INNING IS DEL HOWARD'S PROBLEM

FRANKIE MALONE VS. WILLIE HUNEFIELD AND OTTO BERG VS. FRANKIE DENNY NEXT WEEK

Weaver Fails
To Hold Big
Lead for Oaks

PORLTAND, July 2.—After his Oaks had taken three wins in a row, Manager Del Howard decided that he could afford to start Harry Weaver, the fellow who has not won a game for the visitors in the season. He had been with them and looked like four straight wins for Howard's gang when the Beavers went to bat in the last half of the ninth inning, as his team was clinging to the end of the game. The Oaks, who had pitched well, had an uphill eighth inning when he showed two signs of weakness by allowing two scores. They piled on the ninth inning and the Beavers batted over five runs to win the game to 8. Carl Holling was rushed to the mound when the Oaks had seven men on base and a couple on the bases, but McGredie's gang was going too strong by that time, so Holling failed to stop them putting the other two runs across. The Beavers, who defeated the defeat, while others who remained, gets credit for the win.

Both clubs landed on the ball hard, each hitting eleven times, while the light-weight bats of the Beavers got three, while "Red" Brubaker of the Oaks, had a couple of doubles in the pinch. Jack Knight got three hits for the Oaks, while McGredie's gang Manager Howard to sit there and watch the Beavers bat. Weaver around in that ninth inning, but at the same time caused Old Walter McGredie to enjoy a hearty laugh.

Benny Leonard
And White to Cavort Monday

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., July 3.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, and Charlie White of Chicago, challenger for the title, wound up their training today for their ten-round championship battle here. Monday evening.

Leonard practically finished his active boxing work yesterday and today sat on the couch, trying to keep his muscles loosened. The challenger is in remarkably fine condition, having been on the ground for the last two weeks.

Leonard, however, may pull on the gloves for the benefit of his admirers tomorrow when he will continue to train his legal right to the title. He declares he is as fast as ever after his long layoff and asserts he will defend his title in true champion form.

The state boxing commission made the prediction today that the receipts of the contest will likely reach $65,000.

The structure is saucer shaped, 250 feet in diameter and has a capacity of about 18,000 persons.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

Herbie McFarlin, secretary of the Oaks had to pinch himself just right to make sure that he was dreaming when he was talking to the Beavers. Herbie had the Oaks' percentage all figured out with four straight wins over the Beavers.

Rapp and Dressen, St. Paul team, were winning the baseball honor of base stealing honors, the former having pilfered 26 sacks to the latter's 23. Other leading batters: Harry Coughlin, .376; Woodward, Toledo, .367; Wade, Indianapolis, .365; Butler, Milwaukee, .337; Kapp, St. Paul, .327; Henry, Columbus, .325; Duncan, St. Paul, .323; Sweeney, Kansas City, .322.

Tommy Wright, Wichita, is topping the regular batters in the Western league with an average of .355, while Brannan of Wichita also was out in front last week, having a fourth place with .350. Hogan, of Joplin, .327; Joseph, third with .326.

"Red" Brubaker contributed a couple of doubles in the pinch. He made his fourth error in as many straight games.

Tommy Wright, Wichita, continues his run for home run honors, each cracking out a circuit drive, giving them eleven a piece.

Edgar of Omaha continues to show the way to the base stealers with 17 thefts, with Hogan of Joplin, Kelleher of St. Joseph, and Smith of Wichita, tied as runners-up with 15 each.

Other leading batters: Varyan, Wichita, .359; Krueger, Joplin, .356; Pitts, Oklahoma City, .340; Platner, Omaha, .337; Ladd, Toledo, .336; Beck, Wichita, .332; McLean, Oklahoma City, .327; Tierney, Tulsa, .325.

Baseball Gossip

Hargrove of St. Paul cracked out another Homer during the past week and has broken the tie which he had last week with Burny Brief of Kansas City. Hargrove has eight circuit drives to his credit while Brief has seven.

Gossip of Golfers

The achievement of George Duncan in winning the British open championship was heralded with much pleasure by Peter Hall, professional golfer of Del Monte No. 1 course. Peter was naturally pulling for Walter Hagen to bring back the title but when the American champion failed in the early rounds, he turned to Reiger and Elmer Reiger who relieved Culbertson in the second.

Six hits off Cullop in the first two innings gave the Seals four runs. Two were on base and one run resulted from a double by Sam Lewis. The Seal fans think he is the greatest relief pitcher in the league, standing right in with no outs and shutting the door in the last face. The game from Texas sure pitched great ball in that eighth inning.

Sam caused a little worry by allowing Hart Maggart to get a hit in the ninth with one out. Hart went to second on an infiel'd out, but died there as Kugl flew to Connolly.

Justin Fitzgerald shook the slight shrimps that had plagued him for himself. He got two of them off Nick Cullen, who is a left hander. The other came off Elmer Reiger who relieved Culbertson in the second.

Golf Tournament Will Be Event At Country Club

A golf affair is planned at the Sequoyah Country club Saturday, July 10, when a golf tournament for the men and a stag dinner following will be the big events of the week-end. A double team from Sequoyah will vie for the honors, the visiting team to defray expenses of the dinner. A large number of the members and their guests will motor down for the day.

Recently Mrs. C. H. Walters of the Sequoyah Woman's team was hostess to Mr. J. R. Grace, Mr. Billie, Mr. Butcher, Mr. Edward, Mr. Woodrow and Miss Grace Woodrow.

Those present from the Presidio Golf club were Madames Theodore Lasson, Mr. Jones, William Bernhardt and E. Lion.

Sequoyah club guests included besides the hostess Madames Franklin, Ruth Jewett, Fred Howard Jarvis, J. E. McCullum and Jack French.

A surprise to Eastbay friends was the marriage of Mrs. Dora Bradley Packer and Roy O. Long, which took place Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Oliver Bradley, parents of the bride, in Crofton avenue. Only immediate members of the two families were invited. The marriage service was read by Rev. F. C. Mergot of Berkeley. Pink and white hollyhocks were used in the decoration of the home, combined with Woodwardia ferns.

The bride wore pink chiffon and Chantilly lace over satin and carried orchids. Mrs. Harold Rydell, her maid of honor, wore a white and white satin and lace, carrying white rosebuds. C. G. Long, served his brother as best man. After a motor trip Mr. and Mrs. Long will occupy their new home in Northgate.

FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF WEDDING

An announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Jeanne Louise Wilson, Pinimore, daughter of Mrs. C. A. Pinimore of this city, and C. Paul Seiler of Michigan, about fifty guests having witnessed the ceremony, conducted by Rev. Francis J. Van Horn of the First Congregational church.

The home was arranged in floral decorations of pink roses, sweet peas and other blooms.

The bride's gown was a diaphanous satin, with which was worn the conventional bracelet and orange change bracelet.

She carried a silver and diamond bouquet of pink birds-of-paradise roses.

Miss Nellie Davis of San Francisco.

First National Day Holding Interest

Although the date of the big First National Day here that will bring a galaxy of screen stars, comedians and producers to Oakland is still a month in advance—July 26—interest is such that inquiries are flooding into the office of Eugene L. Perry, manager of the T and D Theaters.

Preparations include the entertainment of at least a score of celebrities. It is believed that the stars will include Norma Talmadge and her vivacious sister Constance, Katherine Macdonald, Anita Stewart, who is this week appearing at the T and D Theater in "The Fighting Shepherds"; Mac Sennett, Charles Ray, Harry Arbuckle, Harold Lloyd, Al St. John and others. Efforts are being made to bring Mary Pickford and Charlie Chaplin to complete the aggregation of foremost stars.

BURLESQUE BALL GAME

If the Oakland ball team survives its burlesque game against the comedians, led by Ben Turpin and Harry Arbuckle, Cal Ewing is in favor of giving the club a permanent of its own. Just how the team is going to play ball against those laugh-producers is beyond Cal Ewing. Ewing admits, however, that the game will be worth getting a million kilometers to witness.

BALL GROUNDS DONATED

Ewing has not only consented to allow the team to play Arbuckle and his crowd that day, but has donated the Pacific Coast League grounds, where the big field day will also be held.

As tentatively planned now, First National Day will be ushered in by a big parade, which will traverse the main streets. Each screen star will have her or his own division. Behind each will be their admirers. In a measure the parade will be in the nature of a popularity contest.

When the parade reaches a given point, all those who have followed the banners of their favorites will be given autographed photos of their stars. These photos will entitle the bearer to free admission to the T and D Theater that afternoon, when the stars will all appear on the stage at the same time.

GREATEST AGGREGATION

More stars will be seen at this time than has ever been gathered together at any other time in the history of the moving picture industry.

The reception to the stars will follow in the afternoon after the burlesque game and field day has been held and will be repeated in the evening.

Among the producers who are expected to come are Mr. Griffith, Mac Sennett and Marshall Neilan, making up a triumvirate of the greatest production directors in the world.

BREAKAWAY ESCAPES DEATH

PETALUMA, July 2.—A Van Horn of this city, a breakaway in the employ of the Petaluma and Santa Rosa Railway company, had a close call from death at Sebastopol when his foot caught in a switch, adjoining the main track, when a train was approaching. He had just closed the switch to allow the train to take the main track when his foot caught. To keep himself from being struck by the train he threw himself to the center of the track, with his foot still fast in the switch. One of the cars passed over his body and the motor was just about to strike him when the train was brought to a stop.

Democrat to Give Platform Publicity

By L. C. MARTIN,

United Press Staff Correspondent,

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Veteran Democratic politicians today declared the platform adopted yesterday by the party's national convention one of the best in the party's history from a vote-getting standpoint. So well pleased are party leaders with the work of the resolutions committee under the leadership of Senator Glass that they are already preparing to give the platform the widest distribution and publicity ever accorded a party declaration. That the President's influence was paramount was disclosed today by Senator Glass, when he explained why he and other administration leaders counseled silence on the liquor question. That was done, Glass said, so that nothing should be permitted to cloud the issue nearest President Wilson's heart—the League of Nations.

As far as there was any minus of passengers into the coaches of the eastbound B. & M. express, in one coach there sat a very pretty young woman dressed in elegant taste and surrounded by all the luxuries of a young, experienced traveler. Among the newcomers were two young men—one of handsome presence with a bold frank countenance and the other a gaudy, gaudy-faced person, heavily built and roughly dressed. The two were huddled together.

As they passed down the aisle of the coach to the only vacant seat offered, it was a reversal of one facing the attractive young woman. Here the linked couple seated themselves. The young man, with a smile, spoke to the girl with a distant, swift, disinterested smile, then with a lovely smile brightening her countenance and a tender pink tinting her rounded cheeks, she turned to him, a little shy and coy. When she spoke her voice, full, sweet, and deliberate, proclaimed that its owner was accustomed to speak and be heard.

"Well, Mr. Easton, if you will make me speak first, I suppose I must. Don't you ever recognize old friends when you meet them in the West?"

"Young!" exclaimed the first speaker.

"Young! Oh, didn't you catch on? Say—do you even know an officer to handoff a prisoner to his right hand?"

"Yes," said Easton, "I must go on to Leavenworth."

The two men sided down the aisle of the coach.

The two passengers in a seat near had heard most of the conversation. Said one of them: "That marshal's a good sort of chap."

The girl, with a slight smile, added: "Pretty young to hold an office like that, isn't he?" asked the other.

"Young!" exclaimed the first speaker.

"Young! Oh, didn't you catch on? Say—do you even know an officer to handoff a prisoner to his right hand?"

"Yes," said Easton, "I must go on to Leavenworth."

The young man, with a smile, spoke again when the other had gone.

"You're excuse me for speaking, miss, but I see you're acquainted with the marshal here. If you'll ask him to speak a word, I might not have to tell him what he do it, and I'll make things easier for me there. He's taking me to Leavenworth prison. It's seven years for counterfeiting."

"Oh," said the girl, with a deep breath and returning color. "So that is what you are doing out here? A marshal?"

"I'm dead," Miss Fairchild," said Easton calmly. "I had to do something. Money has a way of taking wings to itself, and you know it when you're in a bind. I had to step with the crowd in Washington, and this opening in the West—and well, a marshalship isn't quite as high a position as that of ambassador, but the girl, with a smile, added: "The girl doesn't call any more. He hasn't ever had done so. You ought to know that. And so now you are one of these daddies. You've had to live and shoot and into all kinds of dangers. That's different from the Washington life. You have been missed from the old crowd."

"My buttery days are over, I fear."

"I love the West," said the girl fervently. Her eyes were away from the window.

She began to speak truly and simply, without the gloss of style and manner: "Mama and I spent the summer in Denver. She went home a little tired, a little, to rest upon the glittering handups."

"Oh," said the girl, with a deep breath and returning color. "So that is what you are doing out here? A marshal?"

OUR GOLD RESERVE

In an article by Dr. Frank M. Surface, a Washington correspondent of THE TRIBUNE, an informative discussion is made of the gold supply of the United States as related to the monetary and currency system. Therein it is pointed out that the gold reserve has been greatly reduced since the armistice, which must be explained in spite of the fact that our favorable balance of trade has been from month to month greater than at any time during the war period. That is, the balance sheets compiled by the Department of Commerce show such favorable balances, but gold shipments, which are naturally made for the adjustment of trade balances, have served to reduce the gold reserve.

This decrease has been brought about also despite the fact that European debtors have been making shipments of gold to this country to meet their maturing obligations, which means that abnormal quantities of the precious metal have been sent to Latin America and Japan to sustain American dollar exchange in those quarters. At the end of the calendar year of 1919, six weeks after the signing of the armistice, and before the movements of war material had shown any noticeable change, the total stocks of gold in the banks and the public treasures of the United States amounted to $1,165,226,000, or about forty percent of the world's stock in similar positions. Of this amount nearly one-third, or $384,000,000, had been added to our stocks through the excess of imports during the four years of the war.

Since the early part of 1919 we have been exporting gold far in excess of our imports. The total excess of exports in 1919 was $291,051,000. For the first five months of 1920 the excess of exports has been $92,408,000. This makes a total decrease in the country's gold reserves since the armistice of $394,059,000, or approximately one-third of the amount gained during the war.

Dr. Surface goes on to analyze these movements by explaining that the imports of gold in the last five months have amounted to nearly $98,000,000, a considerably larger amount than was imported during either 1918 or 1919. This is due to the shipments of gold from England in anticipation of the payment of their share of the Anglo-French loan.

Our principal exports of gold since the armistice have been to Argentine, Japan, Hongkong, China and British India, in the order named. This gold is being sent to the Far East and to South America chiefly to pay for our excess of imports from these regions. With the exception of Spain we have sent no significant amount of gold to Europe because we already have a large trade balance in that part of the world.

Although there has been a rapid decline in our gold reserves during the last year and a half, there is as yet no cause for serious worry. The large increase in the stock of gold during the war was used as a basis for the vast body of loans during that period. If our credit expansion decreases along with our loss of gold, the whole effect will be beneficial.

But it must be remembered that under our Federal Reserve system the contraction of credit must occur at a much more rapid rate than the decrease in gold. The main bulk of our gold reserve is in the Federal Reserve Banks. Every member bank deposits there as a basis of liabilities. When deposited to the credit of member banks, each dollar of such liability is a sportmanship deserving of the highest reward. Three times he has been defeated and for the fourth time he has come to try his fortunes with the better of it and in her now repose the hope of a sport-loving people for defending American prestige. But if by any chance a victory should be denied the Resolute there is no one in the world to whom we could lose with better grace than Sir Thomas Lipton. He has exhibited a sportsmanship deserving of the highest reward.

The Federal Reserve Act provides that when the gold reserves held against Federal Reserve notes fall below 40 percent, the Federal Reserve Board shall establish a graduated tax which shall be added to the rates of interest and discount, thus giving an automatic check on credit operations. But since credit must be contracted at twenty to thirty-five times as fast as the rate of loss of gold, this operation may involve some difficulties. The Federal Reserve deposits of gold have approached so close to the forty percent mark that it has been necessary to take some steps toward contraction.

In addition to our exports of gold there has been another drain upon our stock of this metal. It is estimated that in 1919 about $100,000,000 was used in the production of manufactured articles. On the other hand, the production of gold has decreased over forty percent in recent years and in 1919 was only $58,500,000, compared to the $100,000,000 used in the arts and industry.

A partial check on the use of gold in the industries, says Dr. Surface, could be brought about by increasing the price of gold bars at the mints. This is a device which was first presented by THE TRIBUNE in September, 1919, and which has since been made the subject of a proposed act of Congress.

The whole subject of gold supply and production is of vital importance to the United States and is destined to have very serious consideration in the future. Gold is the basis of all credit, in this and every other civilized country. The great and shaky fabric of war indebtedness is built upon gold. It is necessary that the gold foundation be enlarged to sustain firmly the pyramidal debt structure.

PROTECT FOREIGN TRADE.

Admiral Benson's strong statement to the representatives of commerce and shipping on the Pacific Coast, published in Friday's TRIBUNE, exhibited a determination to do everything needful and possible for the protection of American foreign trade.

It challenged the maneuvers of the foreign shipping interests, and particularly the British Government, working through Ambassador Geddes and other agencies, to block the purposes of the new merchant marine law.

The chairman of the Shipping Board openly and in the frankest of language denounced the threat of the foreign shipping companies to divert trade from Pacific Coast ports if the people of this country persisted in seeking those proper advantages which the framers of the merchant marine act sought to give them. This was timely.

It is the straightforward thing to do to serve notice on foreign trade rivals that sharp practice will be met with stern and unfailing means of protection.

With this encouragement from the Shipping Board, other agencies should step to the front and do what is needed for the preservation of our foreign trade. The shipping board cannot be expected to bear the whole burden. The policy and the activities of every other governmental agencies should be so directed as to support the policy which Admiral Benson announced. But even this is not enough. It is up to the manufacturing and business interests to do something more substantial than to offer complaints and pleas for aid.

Competition from the producing and shipping interests of other countries is very strong. It will become stronger. This will not be undesirable if conducted in a spirit of fair play and cordial recognition of the freedom of the markets of the world. On the contrary, competition is a boon to the consumer, a stimulus to production and efficient distribution.

We are reminded how the world was once considerably younger than it is today in the hark-back items that Blanche Bates appeared at the Columbia theater twenty-five years ago last Thursday in the play, "The Senator." * * *

Hawaii having taken a considerable shy at the mainland's sweet tooth, now Cuba apparently considers it to be its turn. At least, such an inference is not violent from the news despatches. Growers and refiners are reported to have combined there to fasten the price at 24 cents, and they have a great chance for there is no law in Cuba against profiteering. As to sugar prices, it appears to be just one blessed island after another.

She will be sold, and when she gets to see there will be no dawdling—a prospect that would be taken account of by a reasoning entity.

Mr. Burleson objects to criticisms of the post office department, claiming that he has given an efficient administration of it. This much may be admitted: Mr. Burleson has handled the delays in delivery, lost mail, refusals to pay approved insurance claims, deficits in operating the telephone and telephone utilities, unjustified increases in rates and other public misfortunes growing out of his administration, with rare tact and untiring persistence.

It was over a horse whose services were the subject of a lawsuit. When the judge learned that the services were based on seven days a week he gave judgment for six days, thus ruling that the horse is entitled to one day a week for rest and contemplation, the same as man. A unique judgment, at any rate.

ONE SKUNK AND 1274 CATS PAY TOLL TO POUND

BERKELEY, July 3.—Pity the poor homeless cat!

For no less than 1274 cats of all sizes and ages, all colors and disposition said their farewells to the world during the year just passed. The toll is said to have been exacted in the annual report of Poundmaster Pete Rogers.

Rogers' report shows that it takes a veritable mob to be poundmaster of Berkeley, also one with a steady arm and a steady nerve. Probably the most ticklish job of the year, Rogers says, was an encounter with a stray skunk which had roamed into town. The animal's skin is a testimonial to the poundmaster's ability.

Rogers' activities added a total of $270.20 to the city's treasury during the year. His record for his activities for the twelve months:

Horses caught, 16; horses released, 16; cows caught, 15; cows released, 13; but cows caught, 22; calves released, 22; calves caught, 22; calves released, 22; goats caught, 10; goats released, 10; pigs caught, 1; pigs released, 1; kids caught, 1; kids released, 1; dogs dead, 41; dogs released, 25; dogs sold, 13; dead goats, 4; dogs caught, 642; dogs killed, 604; cats destroyed, 1274; dogs, dead or strayed, 383; animals buried on beach, 118; horses dead on beach, 1; skunk dead, 1; rabbits, dead, 7.

CITIZEN SAVES WINE; GETS THIEF

Caught in the act of attempting to rob the wine cellar of M. C. Vaughn, 5833 Alvala street, two burglars captured last night, one at the point of a gun by Vaughn himself when he returned home late and heard them.

When the burglar entered the basement Vaughn stepped from his hiding place and covered him with his gun. It was his plan to avoid giving the alarm to the other burglar stations outside.

But when the burglar was confronted by the householder, he uttered an exclamation of anger and sprang the second man out of the house he heard it and took to his heels.

Vaughn notified the policeman on the beat of his capture. The burglar said his name was Henry Lee and that the name of his companion was Ralph Locke; that they were both 18 years old, and that Locke could be found later in his room. The police immediately went to Locke's room and arrested him.

Fire Prevention Is Chief's Admonishment

ALAMEDA, July 3.—Rules which, if followed, will minimize fire loss incident to the Fourth of July celebration, were issued yesterday by Fire Chief Charles Steinmetz, who admonishes all Alamedans to be particularly careful not to throw firecrackers in such places that blazes might start.

One hundred empty lots, covered with grass, in the city present a fire hazard which the chief declares should be strictly watched. The throwing of firecrackers in these places would endanger the whole town.

Advice to ascertain the location of the nearest firebox, and to have a water supply available where fireworks are set off, was the further admonition of Chief Steinmetz.

Stevedore Demands $25,000 for Hurts

Damages of $25,000 are asked by Manuel Thomas, stevedore, against Sudden & Christensen, owners of the steamer Carmel, for injuries alleged to have been received when he was struck by a single log of lumber on a wharf of Oakland creek, when the vessel was being unloaded February 19 last. Thomas claims he is permanently crippled. He says his arm and several ribs were broken and that he received severe cuts and bruises.

Intimate Glimpses of Doug and Mary Fairbanks

Popular movie stars caught off the screen; interesting side delights shown at the Kinema, last time today.

The first of the interesting views of the homes of screen celebrities has met with popular favor, and the Kinema is showing for the last time today some glimpses of Doug Fairbanks and Mary Pickford. Louise Glau is in her latest gown, the funny comedy pair Doug MacLean and Don May, via Nasimova, and Bert and Sophie Hawksley, the Christie Comedy Company, at work, and the demolishing of the huge sets of the Fall of Babylon. The second of these sets will be shown tomorrow.

"The Courage of Marge O'Doone," James Oliver Curwood's famous story of the frontier, will be shown for the last time today, also the hilarious Bennett Comedy "The Quack Doctor."

Fashion Plate Bandit's Love Of Dress Jails His Band

Four robbers who have been conducting an organized campaign of banditry on the Oakland streets were captured last night by Inspector Richard McSorley at Fourteenth street and Broadway.

The police inspector recognized the clothing of one of the bandits when he saw him with two other robbers at Franklin and Fifteenth streets. Each reported hold-up men have come to the attention of the police for two weeks containing the description of a young man fashionably dressed in a green sport suit and wearing a striped sport collar. It was his propensity for flashy garb that proved the undoing of the robber band.

McSorley followed the trio to Fourteenth and Broadway, became convinced of their guilt and with robbers started for San Francisco.

The last victim of the men in the banditry was J. J. Toohy, 152 Ninth street, who was held up Thursday night and robbed of $11 and a gold watch.

Two of the bandits were frightened away when they attempted to hold up Mr. and Mrs. George Bray, 1830 Chestnut street. They were blinded by the coolness of Mrs. Bray.

Other victims of the bandits are Herman Hoepner and Anna McCloskey, 2219 Twelfth avenue; Miss M. T. Ball, 491 Cottage street; Arthur Hyman, 1241 Chestnut street; C. F. West, assistant postmaster, 1337 East Twenty-eighth street, and Bud Smith, 830 Thirty-seventh street.

The men are sailors and former sailors from the United States Navy. They are Edward Isaacson alias E. M. Stone, Frank J. Frye, Daniel Deane alias Dan Moore and Edward Collins.

U. of C. Soldier Students Take Over Sorority House

BERKELEY, July 3.—Taking over the former home of the Chi Omega Sorority on Ridge Road, members of the Associated Federal Students at the university have established a club house in Berkeley which will afford a home for wounded soldiers pursuing their studies.

Founded along the same lines as the fraternities now existing on the campus, the Vocational Students' club house will be managed by the members themselves. Assisting the boys in gathering furniture for the new club house are members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Berkeley Post of the American Legion under the direction of Mrs. John Snook and Mrs. E. B. Langenbach.

Here is what the boys need before they can take possession of their home: Dressers for bedrooms, consisting of sets of drawers either with or without mirrors; chairs of all kinds for living rooms, dining room and bedrooms; rugs, study tables and other articles of furniture.

The kitchen of the new club house has already been completely equipped, while beds, mattresses, pillows and blankets have been provided. Persons not having furniture may send cash donations toward purchasing furniture for the house, say the women in charge of equipping the new clubhouse. The American Legion headquarters in the Red Cross rooms at Oxford street and Alston way is receiving gifts. A telephone call to Berkeley 6727 will insure donations being called for.

At the present time the vocational students are occupying temporary quarters at the Richardson Inn, which are anxious to become settled in a home of their own as soon as possible. It is expected that at least 25 of the 80 vocational students now on the college grounds will make their home at the club.

100 FLEE BIG FIRE IN EIGHTH STREET

G. Albert Lansburgh, San Francisco architect, who reconstructed the interior of the San Francisco municipal building and improved the acoustics of the big hall, will confer next week with the city officials on the proposed plan to regulate the acoustics of the local auditorium.

In accordance with an invitation extended by resolution of the city council last week at the suggestion of Mayor Davis, Lansburgh this morning notified City Clerk Lon W. Cummings that he will be over next week to discuss plans for the work.

The council's action, looking towards the improvement of the building, was taken on a report submitted by Mayor Davis of the improvement made by Lansburgh in the acoustic properties of the San Francisco auditorium, which impressed Mayor Davis during his visits to the Democratic convention.

The fire started when a sky rocket fell on the roof, and is the first serious fire of the Fourth of July season.

The loss is estimated to be between $6000 and $10,000. The building was owned by Lou Dow, Chinese merchant.

The families who were burned out last night found shelter at nearby rooming houses and with neighboring families. No one was seriously injured.

Sacramento Preacher to Talk in Berkeley

BERKELEY, July 3.—Rev. Chas. Pease, Congregational minister of Sacramento, is to speak in Unity hall next week on applied psychology. The first lecture will be given next Thursday evening, the next one on Sunday and the final one on the following Tuesday. Each lecture will commence at 8 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Burcham, at the parsonage of the Methodist-Episcopal church in Napa.

The bride is a graduate of the University of California. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe L. Summers of 1701 Forty-seventh Avenue, Oakland.

Contractor Loses Roll From His Coat

BERKELEY, July 3.—C. R. Watts, contractor of 1431 Arch street, lost his coat containing $14 on a tank house yesterday at the home of Frank D. Stringham, attorney, at 1316 Piedmont road. When he returned to get his coat later the coat was still there but the roll of bills was not.

Plantation Strike Cuts Island Revenue

HONOLULU, T. H., July 3.—The strike of Japanese plantation laborers, which began the first of February last, is affecting the city and territory, according to City Treasurer Conkling. Thousands of idle plantation workers are defaulting on their poll tax, said Conkling. Of the $5 poll tax the city gets $3 and the territory $2.

ALBANY FIGHTS TO SPARE TOWN IN GRASS FIRE

ALBANY, July 3.—Sparks from a passing Southern Pacific train started a grass fire on El Cerrito hill yesterday afternoon which threatened to wipe out a portion of the town of Albany. For more than four hours volunteers with wet sacks fought the blaze, aided by the Albany fire department. When the flames reached the top of the hill, setting fire to a grove of eucalyptus trees and threatened to sweep down on several score homes on the eastern slope, back-firing was resorted to and saved the residences from destruction.

The fire was still smoldering in the eucalyptus grove this morning and more precautions were taken to prevent a recurrence. Flames rose to a height of several hundred feet in the eucalyptus grove and made the blaze one of the most spectacular in the bay region for some time.

Setting forth in reason of faulty material used in the manufacture of can for the United Canneries Company of California, processed fruits and vegetables spoiled an action for $250,000 filed by the cannery against the American Can Company.

According to the complaint, the United Canneries Company and the American Can Company entered into an agreement whereby the latter was to supply the former with all cans needed in the plants west of the Rocky mountains of the plaintiff company during the season of 1918-19.

The cans, the complaint says, were inferior to those used by the plaintiff.

The specific charge was that he had given a check amounting to $29.75 to a local firm and that he had no checking account in the Oakmont Bank of Savings to meet payment on the check when it was presented.

Wintermood acted as his own attorney. He said that he had been unjustly arrested by the police and that he had forgotten to transfer the money from a savings to a checking account. He used permission to reimburse the firm in open court and the request was granted.

Founded along the same lines as the fraternities now existing on the campus, the Vocational Students' club house will be managed by the members themselves. Assisting the boys in gathering furniture for the new club house are members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Berkeley Post of the American Legion under the direction of Mrs. John Snook and Mrs. E. B. It is expected that at least 25 of the 80 vocational students now on the college grounds will make their home at the club.

The fire was first noticed by a man in the street at 12:30 this morning. The building was of flimsy wood construction and the fire spread rapidly. When the fire department arrived the upper part of the three-story building was a mass of flames and the occupants were crowding toward the doors and windows. Several Chinese immigrants were trapped in the upper portion of the house and were compelled to leap into nets held below by firemen.

The fire started when a sky rocket fell on the roof, and is the first serious fire of the Fourth of July season.

The loss is estimated to be between $6000 and $10,000. The building was owned by Lou Dow, Chinese merchant.

Giant Crackers Will Usher In Fourth of July

Plans for the big Fourth of July celebration in Oakland were completed today by a committee of the Merchants' Exchange, which organization has charge of the program.

The program will officially open early tomorrow morning when fire-crackers will boom all over town, with bombs and rockets and "nigger" chasers and everything. Tomorrow morning the alarm clock will sound in many homes at the wee hour of dawn, the time when every boy hopes to touch off the first giant cracker in his neighborhood.

The entire program completed today by the Merchants' Exchange committee calls for patriotic exercises beginning at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the theater of the Municipal Auditorium. A program of athletic sports and races on Lake Merritt from 2 o'clock and 6 o'clock, a spectacular fireworks display opening on the lake shores at 8:30 o'clock, and a grand ball during the remainder of the evening, starting at 9 o'clock.

With the completion of the program, the committee headed by P. N. Hammar, today notified Chief of Police J. F. Lynch of the different features of the celebration, with a request for sufficient officers to preserve order during the day and to protect the men in charge of the fireworks during the evening.

Calling attention to the arrangements made by the Merchants' Exchange committee for a public celebration, which everyone may participate, Mayor John L. Davie today issued a public proclamation to the people of the city urging everyone to participate in the observance.

Commissioners To Adjust Roll

Meetings of the city commissioners as a board of equalization to adjust the city assessment roll in preparation for the final compilation of the municipal budget for the fiscal year 1920-21 will be started next week and will be continued throughout the month of July. Every day during the month the city council will adjourn to meet as a board of equalization to hear complaints on assessments.

The city assessment roll for the year is being completed in the office of City Auditor and Assessor Harry G. Williams today and will be finished next week and will be continued throughout the month of July. Every day during the month the city council will adjourn to meet as a board of equalization to hear complaints on assessments.

The work of compiling the new city budget will also be undertaken during the month by Commissioner of Revenue and Finance William J. Bacus, based on the budget estimates of requirements submitted by the various departments. The completed budget will be considered by the city council for "pruning" following the completion of the work of the commissioners as a board of equalization.

The estimates for the department of public works, department of revenue and finance, department of streets and library department are the only ones not yet submitted, and these will be turned in early next week.

County Dairies Average High

An average of 83.1 per cent was scored during the past month by the local dairies dealing in pasteurized milk, according to the monthly report of the standing of the dairies compiled today by City Veterinarian Dr. C. C. Wing, head of the city milk inspection department, and issued through the office of Health Officer Dr. E. K. Smith.

The following is a score sheet showing the standing of the thirteen pasteurized milk dairies: Foster's creamery, 91.7; Walmsley, 89.9; 31.0; Oakland Cream Depot, 19.5; Jersey M. C. & C. Co., 83.5; Central creamery, 88.7; Shuey creamery, 88.1; Columbia dairy, 87.4; Penney Farm, 84.7; American creamery, 81.7; Valley creamery, 73.0; Durham farm, 72.7; Mutual creamery, 63.5; and South Berkeley creamery, 67.2.

BY NATE PLEITER

DIRECTOR: THE INTERNATIONAL SYNDICATE

Congressmen Discuss Trade; C. of C. Fetes Delegations in the blue room of the Hotel Oakland will be informal and will be attended by officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce who hosts.

TO VISIT BASE SITE

Following the luncheon, the party will be taken on an automobile ride, with the particular object of providing the committee with a concrete idea of the advantages of the Alameda site for a naval base.

The appropriations committee will have much to say in coming sessions of Congress as to the naval base project and all moneys to be expended in the direction will be completely under its authority.

Fifteen are in the party, which includes the following members of the appropriations committee:

James W. Good, Iowa, chairman; William R. Wood, Indiana; Milton W. Shreve, Pennsylvania; Louis C. Cranston, Michigan; Joseph W. Byrns, Tennessee; John S. Vans, Montana; John J. Eagar, New Jersey; and Jas. A. Gallivan, Massachusetts.

Accompanying them are: James A. Collier et al., D. C.; Ludovicus E. Timberlake, M. J. Snell, A. K. Kelly and Anna.

Their special train will arrive tonight and will park at the Oakland pier.

Sons of Washington to Celebrate Fourth

Appropriate services for the commemoration of the Fourth will be held by the Sons and Daughters of Washington, the national organization devoted to Americanization, at Chabot hall at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. Bill Slinger, a secretary of the Oakland Y. M. C. A., will be the principal speaker. Miss Mary Lambert, a California writer, will recite several original poems and J. K. Miller will sing. Mrs. Miller will be the accompanist. General special numbers will be given by the sons and daughters of Washington. Felix Schreiber, director of the Sons and Daughters, will preside. The public is invited.

Eight members of the appropriation committee of the House of Representatives will be guests of the Goldfield Chamber of Commerce to attend the luncheon and an inspection of the industrial and shipping sections of the city.

An invitation was received by Pitt from Goldfield this morning, stating that the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce to a luncheon had been accepted.

The Congressmen and their party have just completed a tour of the Valley with Stephen T. Mather, director of National parks.

The luncheon, which will be given

Wife, in Daze, is Seen in Oakland

Convinced that his wife, who disappeared from her home in San Francisco, is in Oakland, and is suffering from a lapse of memory in which her sense of personal identity is obscured, J. C. Kelly, 1842 Steiner street, San Francisco, this morning enlisted the aid of the Oakland police in his search.

Mrs. Olive Kelly, who is 28 years old, disappears last May. According to her husband, she is subject to periods of mental depression in which her memory becomes dimmed.

Before her disappearance she was closely watched by her husband and family while undergoing temporary mental aberration.

She vanished without leaving any tangible clue to assist in the search. Yesterday a report reached her husband that she had been seen in the Union streets, and this evening Kelly saw her again.

Mrs. Kelly is described as of medium height and weight, with brown hair, gray eyes and fair complexion. She was wearing a striped silk skirt and black coat.

Kelly believes she has obtained employment in Oakland and is unable to recover her sense of identity.

Oakland Man Jailed On Liquor Charges

Charged with violating the national prohibition act by the illegal sale of liquor, Isaac Butler, 425 Broadway, was arrested last night by Patrolmen Louis Kersch and C. T. Anderson.

According to the police Butler has been under surveillance for several weeks. A small amount of liquor found in the possession of Butler was confiscated and will be used as evidence against him.

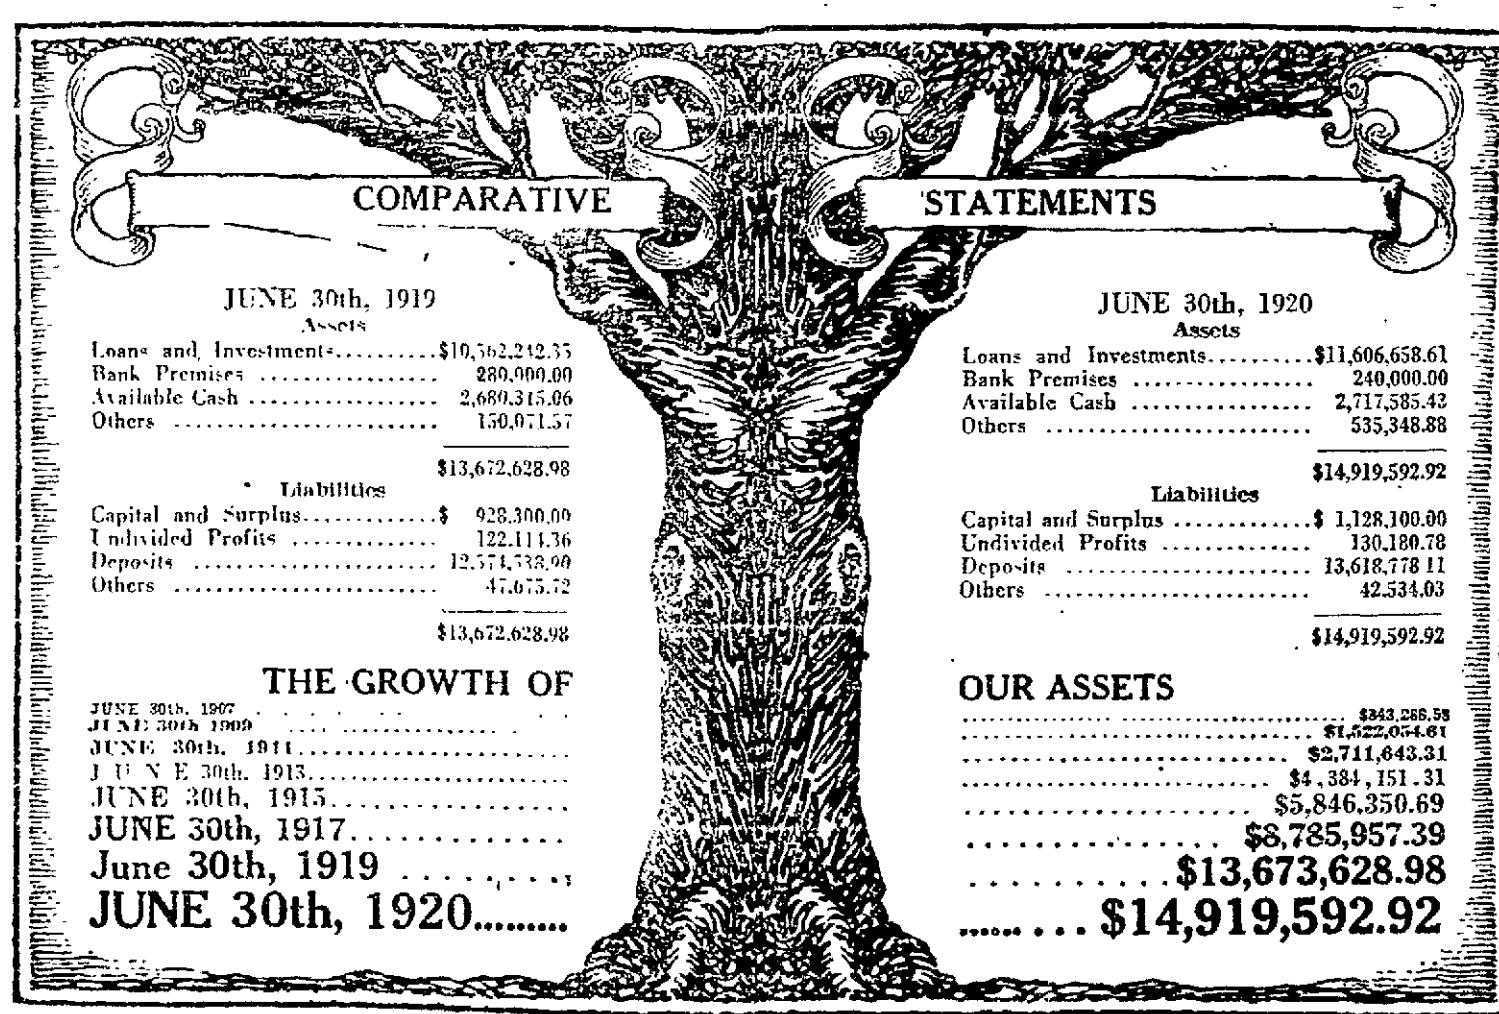

Butler was taken to San Francisco this morning to await trial before Commissioner Krull.

TWO NEW CITY DEPARTMENTS ASK FOR MONEY

Budget estimates for two additional municipal departments were submitted to Commissioner W. J. Bacus yesterday by Commissioner F. F. Morse and City Auditor and Assessor Harry G. Williams, for consideration in the preparation of the city budget for the coming fiscal year.

The requirements of the department presided over by Commissioner Morse will be $1,856,794.55, or an increase of $400,000 from the past year of $1,436,673.65.

The additional funds are to take care of increased salaries, increased cost of supplies and maintenance, a new ambulance for the police department and the 50 new positions of patrolmen recently created by the city council.

The entire budget is apportioned to the various departments in the following manner: Fire department, $880,213.50; police department, $610,213.50; electrical and lighting, $168,678.85; health department, $125,213.12; electrical department, $125,213.12; health department, $15,625; commission's office, $8050; municipal pound, $6000; municipal wood yard, $3500.

The bridge estimate submitted by City Auditor and ex-officer Assessor Harry G. Williams for the year of $66,547. Of that amount $43,330 is requested for the auditor's office and $23,167 for the auditor's office.

CONDUCTOR IS DOCTOR, NURSE, GUIDE IN ONE

C. B. Anderson, conductor on the Key Route System, holds a new record for speed, efficiency and ability to live today. He is a physician, guardian, valet, detective and messenger when H. E. Wyman, 3010 Shattuck avenue, yesterday morning boarded the 11:20 a.m. ferry boat from San Francisco. Wyman, after reaching the train, fainted. Anderson, conductor on the cars, promptly revived him. Wyman fainted a few stations beyond. Between official stops Anderson again applied first aid.

The railroad man decided that the patient must not go home unassisted. He volunteered to accompany the stranger. The house was vacant. Anderson called in a neighbor, Mrs. Kendrick. He learned that Mrs. Wyman was awaiting her husband in the Oakland Bank of America. He dashed to a corner store telephone in the bank, advised Mrs. Wyman to return home, made his patient comfortable and left without ceremony.

Then Anderson nonchalantly returned to his train on its return trip, and resumed his vocation. He had lost no time.
